TROOPS ARE OFF TO CUBA

Last of the Invading Army Leaves Florida Ports

BELIEF THAT OPERATIONS WILL SOON SHOW RESULTS

New York, June 9—Special—It is believed that all the troops that will be needed during the pending war have already started for Cuba and Porto Rico. The capture of Santiago is looked for within a week. This will be followed by attacks upon Cardenas, Matanzas, Cienfuegos, and other seaports, Havana being left to the last. Communication with the capital being cut off by both land and sea, capitulation will soon follow, as the city is already stricken with the hand of famine. The capture of Porto Rico will be merely an incident of the campaign designed to cripple the resources of Spain as much as possible and to ensure the full demands of the United States as to Cuba.

Spanish Defenses Worthless.

Cape Haytien, June 9—Special—The shelling of Caimanera by the American fleet yesterday again demonstrated the inferiority of the Spanish defenses along the coast of Cuba. The fire of the gunners from the forts was ineffective, no harm having been done to the American vessels. The works of the enemy were speedily demolished or made untenable, the soldiers flying like frightened sheep. Many houses in the town were demolished, and the inhabitants took refuge in the country beyond the range of the guns.

The Expedition to Porto Rico.

Washington, June 9—Special—Now that the army for Santiago has left, the entire energy of the government will be directed toward getting the expedition to Porto Rico away as soon as possible. Gen. Coppinger will command this army, and it is expected twenty thousand men will accompany him. Gen. Lee will be second in command. It will be at least ten days before the troops embark. The attack upon San Juan will be made by the combined land and naval forces.

On the Way to Cuba.

Washington, June 9—Special—It is believed here now that some twenty-seven thousand troops are on their way to Cuba. Santiago will be occupied in the near future without difficulty. It is possible the insurgents, aided by Sampson's marines, may take possession of Santiago even before the big expedition of troops reaches Cuba's shores.

The Fall of Manila.

London, June 9—Special—The fall of Manila is not confirmed, but telegrams from various sources lead to the belief that the report is true. One report says Aguinaldo captured the city after a sharp engagement. Earlier reports said the city surrendered to the Americans to prevent massacre by the insurgents.

A Riot Reported.

Savannah, Ga., June 9—Special—A private letter received here from a soldier at Tampa says there was a riot on Monday night between troops and townspeople, and between white volunteers and colored regulars in which four men were killed. The story cannot be further corroborated.

Somewhat Stirred Up.

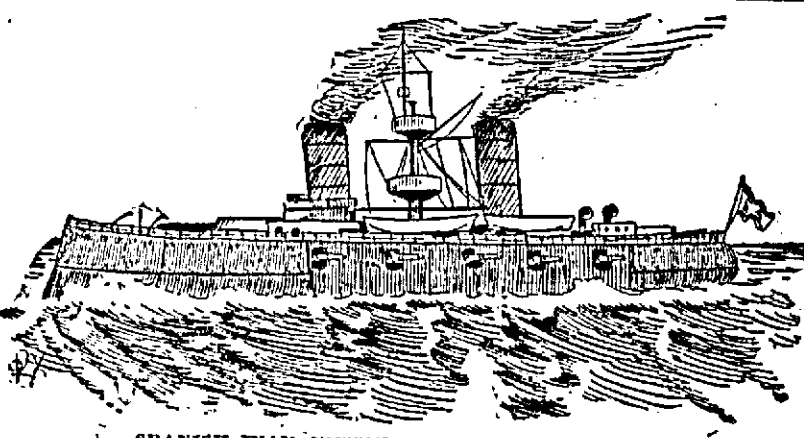

Key West, June 9—Special—The reported discovery of warships of Spain on the north coast of Cuba has stirred up naval officials here. A conference of leading officers in port has been held and it is stated that several ships will be sent to ascertain the truth of the report.

Filled With Consternation.

Madrid, June 9—Special—The communication of the governor general of the Philippines declaring that he cannot hold out longer has struck the country with consternation, and has caused widespread public anger.

Capt Phillips Is Well.

Washington, June 9—Special—The navy department received a dispatch from Capt. Phillips, of the battleship Texas, this morning stating that he is alive and well.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place last evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church at 6:30, o'clock the contracting parties George Sherwood and Miss Amber Payne of this city. The bride was attired in a thin white gown and wore a veil and carried white casket.

She was indeed a very pretty bride. A reception was given at the bride's home from 7:30 to 9:30 to a number of invited guests. Miss Payne has lived in Beloit all her life, and is well known among the first society of Beloit. Mr. Sherwood belongs to one of Beloit's first families and is highly respected and esteemed by those with whom he is acquainted. The newly wedded pair left on the 9:45 train for a short wedding trip, expecting to return about June 15. On their return they will reside at the Sherwood house. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Eshel Payne as maid of honor, and Miss Marlen Clark and Miss Mabel Bradley as bridesmaids. The maid of honor was attired in white, organza trimmed with heliotrope ribbon. The decorations at the church were white syringes. The groomsmen were Oscar Thompson. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Hollister, and the ushers were Mr. Hulbut and Mr. Parmico, of the college.

THEY SENT CONGRATULATIONS

Soldiers at Jacksonville Send Greetings to a Janesville Bride.

While the guests were enjoying the repast at the Shattuck-Sutherland wedding yesterday afternoon, numerous telegrams containing hearty congratulations arrived from different sections of the country. One message in particular, dated at Jacksonville, Florida, was of special interest, and created no end of amusement. It was from six boys of Company A Wisconsin Volunteers.

After offering most hearty congratulations to the bride and groom the message ended by saying that the boys were financially embarrassed and that they were obliged to send the message collect. The bill was one dollar, which was willingly settled for by ex-Alderman Sutherland. The message was signed: Sheldon, Miner, Buchholz, King, Reynolds and Fletcher.

While at school this morning Rector Brown, son of Dr. Robert Brown, threw a large stone at a boy companion, but instead of hitting him it flew wide of its mark and struck the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hurd squarely in the left eye. The injured lad was taken to the office of Dr. J. P. Thorne, where it was found that his optic was badly bruised, and that the blood vessels of the eye had been severed. The unfortunate lad may lose his eye.

SPAIN MAY CRY QUILTS

Almost Ready to Acknowledge That She Is Whipped

FALL OF SANTIAGO WILL MAKE HER SURRENDER

London, June 9—Special—The foreign office is in receipt of information going to show that Spain is on the eve of capitulation. All efforts to secure European intervention having failed the ministry is about to make the best terms it can with the United States. It is conceded that these will involve loss of territory, but it is believed that more serious results will follow a longer continuance of the war. Peace proposals will doubtless be submitted to the Washington government within two weeks.

A Campaign of Vandalism.

Washington, June 9—Special—It is stated here on what is considered good authority that the Spaniards have determined to destroy everything in Cuba which they cannot hold. Preparations have been made for the burning of Santiago and Caimanera in case the American attacks are successful in driving the Spaniards out. Nothing will be left after the Spanish evacuation but burned and blackened walls. Even the water with which these places are supplied will be made useless to the invaders by poison placed in the sources of supply. Orders have been given to fight to the death and in dying to kill the hated Americans. No shelter, food or drink will be left for the invaders, nor will anything of value that can be destroyed remain as a reward of the conquest. Fire and the sword will do the worst, to be followed by the use of the assassin's retort, poison. American commanders have been cautioned to beware of poison in the water of the region in which the army is operating.

Must Resist to the Death.

Madrid, June 9—Special—The minister of war refuses to send any further instructions to the governor general saying that he has already cabled him to "protect the honor of Spain and resist to the death." Sagasta's assertion that Spain is not responsible for the events in the Philippines and Cervera's tactics has added to the excitement here.

Naval Battle Expected.

Key West, June 9—Special—It is reported here that three Spanish warships have been sighted off Havana, one being a battleship. Commodore Watson has a strong fleet with him and a naval battle may soon be in progress.

Perhaps They Are Killed.

Mobile, June 9—Special—It is reported that the Cuban general, Rodriguez, and all members of his expedition, who left here a fortnight ago, have been killed near Santiago.

Fear Spanish Ships.

Washington, June 9—Special—There is a rumor here that several transports have returned to Tampa to await later details about the Spanish ships reported to have been seen near Cardenas.

Expelled From Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., June 9—Special—It is reported that a messenger has left here for Montreal with an order expelling Carranza and Du Bosc, head of the Spanish spy bureau here, from Canada.

Still at Cadiz.

London, June 9—Special—Reports from Cadiz assert that Camara's fleet is still there.

WAS GODFATHER OF JANESVILLE

SOMETHING ABOUT THE LIFE OF THE LATE HENRY JAMES

He Was of a Roving Disposition and Went to California With the Argonauts—A Justice of the Peace Who Took the World Easy—Reminiscences of an Old Friend.

Interest in personal recollections of Henry F. James, the founder of Janesville, are contributed by D. R. Leeper, ex-mayor of South Bend, Ind. Mr. Leeper went across the plains in 1850 and lived with Mr. James several years. His book "The Argonauts of '49" includes many references to Mr. James. Mr. Leeper writes:

Editor Gazette:—In reply to your inquiry concerning a "historical sketch in which Henry F. James is mentioned," I would say that I wrote something of the kind that appeared in the South Bend Daily Times, but I think it was shortly after his death, some eighteen years ago. I probably have some copies of the paper somewhere, but I know not where.

I knew Mr. James, or Squire James, as he was generally called, quite intimately from the fall of 1851 till the spring of 1854, part of this period living with the family. Afterward we corresponded occasionally till near the time of his death, in about 1880. He then resided on Humboldt Bay, California, in the village of Uniontown, since changed to Arcata. He took a claim in the Mad river bottom, about two miles from the village, before the land was surveyed. It bordered on the great redwood forests, near the edge of which he built a comfortable frame residence, to which he removed, and where he spent the remainder of his days. The site he christened Red Jacket. He was the first justice of the peace elected in Northwestern California, and was prominent in the affairs of the village, the bay and the county till the time of his death. He had the advantage of little school training, but had read much, was broad-minded, and had a happy faculty of expressing himself on paper. He was accordingly of much service to his neighbors in the new community, in the way of getting up papers, legal and otherwise. He was of heroic frame and of corresponding physical strength. At house raisings I have seen him shoulder a heavy stick of timber near the center, and have men throw their weight on the shorter end so as to tip the other end to the top of the building. His hair was quite gray and his whiskers correspondingly black, the contrast being so striking as to cause frequent remark; a peculiarity which he jocosely explained by saying his whiskers were about twenty years the younger.

When I first met Mr. James, I was just emerging from my teens. He had stopped over night with my father near South Bend, in the early thirties, when on one of his westward removals; and more because of this incident, perhaps than anything else, he took a fatherly interest in me. The advice and encouragement he gave were of much value to me; for which I hold his name in grateful remembrance.

Of course I heard him relate much of the story of his life; but unfortunately I was so thoughtless as to take no notes, and am consequently short of dates and many other interesting facts. I remember, however, quite vividly the main features of his life. Born in West Virginia, he removed from there with his family to Butler county, Ohio, when a lad big enough to drive the cow behind the covered wagon. He remained in Butler county till he married, in about 1833 or 1834 he settled in La Porte county, Indiana, where I think he was a justice of the peace, at least was known as such, and where he took the lead in the establishment of Mills township. We next observe him on the trail of the pioneer, facing toward Wisconsin territory. He located and I think rented the land on which the city of Janesville now stands. When these events took place, I do not know; but of course the facts can be readily ascertained from the proper land records. I am of the impression, also, that he was the founder of that municipality. But with him it was not a successful financial or business venture, all he got out of it being the perpetuation of his name. We next find him located near Savannah, Platte county, Mo., where the gold fever caught him, and in 1849 he with his family crossed the plains by ox team to California. I think his residence at Humboldt Bay dates from the fall of 1850. At any rate, I found him there a year later, and his frame house, the material of which was split from the adjacent redwood forests, there being no sawmills in that section at the time, bore the appearance of having weathered at least through one rainy season.

Mr. James was not a success in accumulating worldly treasures. He died a comparatively poor man. He kept his land, but his premises, which I visited in 1881, not long after his death, bore not the evidences of thrift. The residence, though ample and commodious enough, was wholly innocent of the painter's brush. He was a striking illustration that "the rolling stone gathers no moss." It was his favorite way of epitomizing the story of his life, that he had never been long enough in one place for the bark to loosen on the fence rails. In politics, he was an ardent disciple of Henry Clay and later of the republican faith.

His children still reside near the parent's last homestead. These were Thomas J., John, Franklin and Jaeger. The death of the mother, a very estimable lady, preceded that of the father several years. I am not apprised of the age of Mr. James, any further than may be inferred from the fact that his oldest son was married before the family immigrated to California. D. R. Leeper.

GARDEN REGION OF WISCONSIN

HON. A. A. JACKSON'S ADDRESS AT THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

Reviews the Early Settlement and Rapid Progress of Southern Wisconsin—Its Development the Work of Half a Century—Enterprise and Thrift.

Hon. A. A. Jackson, of this city, delivered the following address on the early history and development of Southern Wisconsin before the historical department of the semi-centennial celebration today:

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen—I am desired to speak of the settlement and growth of the central portion of Southern Wisconsin. Time will permit only a brief reference to its growth and history. This portion of the state may be said to be embraced within the counties of Dane, Green, Jefferson, Rock and Walworth. It is one of the most beautiful and fertile regions of the great northwest. In Dane county in the fair lake region, widely known for its beautiful lakes, in the midst of which stands the City of Madison, the Capital of our state.

In Walworth county is Lake Geneva, a most beautiful and picturesque spot, and around which cluster the summer homes of many of the wealthy citizens of this and other states. In the counties of Jefferson, Rock and Green, are the beautiful valleys of the Rock and Sugar Rivers. In all of the counties, the prairies and forests are of great beauty and fertility.

This portion of our state was, prior to 1832, a terra incognita to the white population of this country. It had been claimed by France from 1671 to 1763. From 1763 to 1781 it had belonged to Great Britain. It became a part of the Northwest territory in 1787, a part of the Indiana territory in 1800, a part of the Michigan territory in 1818, a part of Wisconsin territory in 1836, and a part of the State of Wisconsin in 1848, and yet at the time of the Black Hawk war in 1832, so little was known that when the hostile Indians retreated up Rock river, they were said to be somewhere in Southern Wisconsin, and the white troops were obliged to rely upon friendly Indians as guides.

Prior to the settlement of this portion of the state, it has been occupied by the Sacs, Fox, Pottawatomie, Chippewas, Potawatamies and perhaps other Indian tribes.

The Indian titles were extinguished between 1802 and 1838 by various treaties made by the United States with the different tribes claim- ing title to, or rights to the lands.

One of the most important events in the early history of this section was the Indian war, known as the Black Hawk war. By the treaty of 1804, the Sacs and Fox Indians ceded to the United States their title to the lands in Illinois and Southern Wisconsin, and were removed to the west bank of the Mississippi river.

Black Hawk, one of the chiefs of the Sacs, refused to be bound by this treaty, and in the spring of 1832, returned with his band to his old home on the east bank of the Mississippi, at the mouth of the Rock. His return was regarded as a violation of the treaty and an invasion of the state of Illinois. The militia of Illinois was called out to aid the government troops, under General Atkinson, in compelling these Indians to return to the west side of the Mississippi. The Indians retreated up Rock river to Fort Atkinson, and then by the way of the four lakes, where the beautiful city of Madison now stands, to the Wisconsin river near Holens, where they were overtaken and attacked by the white troops, defeated and driven to the banks of the Mississippi, and there nearly all killed or captured, thus terminating the war.

This war not only dispelled all fear of trouble with the Indians in this part of the state, but gave the whites an opportunity to become acquainted with the beauty and fertility of the country through which the army had marched.

Immediately upon the settlement of the Indian troubles immigrants began to pour into the country. They came in great numbers from all parts of the east and from foreign countries, especially from the Scandinavian and Germanic countries.

On the 26th of Oct., 1818, Gen. Cass, governor of Michigan Territory, which embraced all of this state, divided the central and southern portion of that part of Michigan territory lying west of Lake Michigan into two counties, Brown and Crawford. Brown county embraced that portion lying east of a line drawn north and south through center of the portage between the Fox and Wisconsin rivers. That portion lying west of the line constituted the county of Crawford.

On the 9th of October, 1820, that portion of Crawford county lying south of the Wisconsin river was set off and constituted a new county, called Iowa county. On the 6th of September, 1834, that portion of Brown county lying south of the line between towns eleven and twelve was set off and constituted a new county, called Milwaukee county. It remained attached to Brown county for judicial purposes until 1835, when it became a wholly independent county.

In 1836 the counties of Dane, Green, Jefferson and Rock were so moved out of the counties of Milwaukee and Iowa. In 1838, Walworth county was formed out of Milwaukee county. Immediately after the close of the Black Hawk war, the government commenced the survey of the public lands. The surveys were completed and the lands offered for sale as early as 1839. Be-

THEY SPEAK FOR JANESVILLE.

Judge Bennett, and Mrs. John Winans at the Semi-Centennial.

Janesville is bearing a conspicuous part in the semi-centennial ceremonies now in progress at Madison. At the meeting of the state bar association held yesterday Judge John R. Bennett, of this city, delivered an address devoted to reminiscences of the members of the bar and bench whom he had known in his long professional career. He paid tribute, also, to several of the early lawyers and judges. His speech was interspersed with amusing anecdotes.

Mrs. John Winans, at the Women's congress, spoke of the part Janesville and Rock county played in the pioneer history of the state. She said in part:

In 1835 Mrs. Samuel St. John, leaving home, friends and comforts in the far east, in company with her husband and two little children, traveled by waterways and stage coach in bleak December, was the first white woman to penetrate the wilds. She became the mother of the first white child born in Janesville. The door of their rude cabin was ever hospitably opened to them, and at times nine persons beside their family found shelter there. Being a frail woman she lived less than a year, and was the first to be buried in Janesville. H. F. James built the first ferry, and in his cabin, eighteen feet square, on the bank of the river, travelers found good accommodations. The first United States mail was delivered in Janesville, and consisted of one letter addressed to Henry F. James, postmaster. It was after this enterprising pioneer that our city was named.

Janesville had many notable men, the peers of any in the territory. Among them we are proud to name Chief Justice E. V. Whiton, A. Hyatt Smith, the originator of the Northwestern railroad system, Judge David Noggle, Secretary of State Alexander Gray, and A. M. Carter, all of whom helped to frame the state constitution.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS.

Chicago Times-Herald: The ignorance of Spain passes understanding. The proud Castilians who prate about their "national honor" have no adequate conception of America or the Americans. In a nation 65 per cent. of which is illiterate it is not strange that popular misapprehension should be entertained concerning a foreign nation thousands of miles away; but it seems queer that the press and the public leaders of Spain should be so woefully in the dark concerning American affairs.

El Heraldo de Madrid furnishes this valuable bit of information concerning the United States troops:

All the troops of the yankees are in the far western part of the country, many thousands miles from the Atlantic coast. There are only a few thousand men all told and they are well paid and well fed, and not willing to fight. To utilize this force it will be necessary to bring it to the eastern seaboard. There is but one railway by which it can be transported, and that is an old and poorly constructed affair. At one place this railroad passes over Niagara Falls, a chasm 1,400 feet high, near Labrador. At last accounts the bridge at this place was in a very dangerous condition. It need surprise no one to hear that some agency had made it still more so.

El Tiempo prints this special dispatch from Havana:

Word has just been received here that the Indians are rising against the yankees in Illinois, Ohio and other places. The farmers are protecting the government to protect them from the bloodthirsty savages, who are burning houses and killing on every side. Troops are asked for at Colorado, in the state of Denver, and at St. Louis (San Luis) in Missouri. News is brought to us that Buffalo Bill, a notorious outlaw and leader of a band of half-breeds, has risen against the American government, and is burning towns near his birthplace in New York.

El Diario truthfully says: "It will no doubt surprise our readers to learn that the yankee President, McKinley, is a naturalized Chinaman, having been born in Canton."

El Pais draws this beautiful picture of the United States:

The country is not fit to live in. The climate is execrable. When it is not scorching or snowing the heat is almost unbearable. Avalanches are frequent at all times, and these threaten the principal cities. As for the people, besides the few whites engaged in business along the coast, the remainder of the country is one vast plain, covered with Indians and whites called cow-boys, and great herds of roaming cattle.

It is a mistake to say, as our school histories do, that "America was discovered by Spain in 1492." Spain has not discovered this country yet.

The location of a summer assembly at Delavan lake affords the people of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois an opportunity that has heretofore been denied to many of them. It brings this popular and worthy branch of entertainment conveniently near to them and at the same time locates it at one of Wisconsin's most beautiful and attractive summer resorts. The ten day program will be a very superior and attractive one and now would be a good time to make your plans to attend. Any information will be gladly furnished by the secretary, Grant D. Harrington, Delavan, Wis.

Admiral Dewey's parents wanted him to be a minister. They probably foresaw the fact that his delivery would be forcible.

HISTORIC CARRIAGE IN TOWN

It Was Once the State Conveyance of President Harrison.

A carriage which is said to have been used by ex-President Harrison in Washington during his term in office, is now in this city, having recently been purchased by the local livery and undertaking firm of Crall & Davis. The vehicle resembles the average up-to-date hack in many respects, and is finely finished throughout. Soon after the expiration of President Harrison's term the executive carriage found its way to a Chicago dealer.

CONSIGNED TO THE SILENT GRAVE

OBSEQUIES OF THE LATE A. M. CARTER THIS MORNING

The Remains Taken to Johnston For Interment—Death of Jeremiah Kenna, of Footville—James A. Hopkins Dies—Funeral of D. H. Bonesteel.

The funeral of the late A. M. Carter was held at the Congregational church today at 10 o'clock. A large number of the friends of the deceased were present, among them a daughter from Lake Superior and another from South Dakota. Rev. Mr. Doulson conducted the services, and in the course of his remarks referred to the long and useful life of the deceased, his rectitude in business affairs, and his tenacity of purpose. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Johnston for interment.

The pall bearers were: J. C. Echlin, J. M. Hostwick, Harry Piers, J. A. Donnelton, J. T. Wright and Archie Reid.

James S. Hopkins.

James S. Hopkins, an old and respected resident of Rock county, died at his home in the town of Fulton, June 2, after a long and painful illness which he bore with great courage and cheerfulness. Surrounded and cared for by those nearest and dearest to him he appreciated every act of kindness shown him by his family, his neighbors and friends. Of a strong physical nature, he possessed as well a character of sterling worth combined with rare tenderness of heart. The community loses a good neighbor and friend, his son a loving father, and his wife a devoted husband. Of him it can be truly said: "He was a manly man, generous, affectionate, noble and true."

He was born February 9, 1823, in Argyle Co., N. Y., grew to manhood there, married Ann E. Ellis, and in 1850 came west to see the country; returned to the east and in 1851 moved his family to Wisconsin in a wagon. They lived the first two years with the Stone brothers, but in 1853 bought the farm which has since been their home. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins were in early days connected with the Baptist church at Fulton. Mrs. Hopkins departed this life sixteen years ago and the one daughter, Alice, died in early childhood. Mr. Hopkins married Mrs. Charlotte Biglow, June 12, 1883, who survives him. He was one of a large family of brothers, most of whom lived in this community. Mr. F. Hopkins of Port Atkinson, the last remaining brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. Edgington and Mr. and Mrs. Nellis, of Janesville, those nearest to him outside of his immediate family, visited him many times during his long illness, and by many thoughtful acts of kindness made the weary days brighter and shorter for the patient sufferer.

The funeral was held from the house Saturday, June 4. Mr. Welser, of Beloit, spoke words of comfort to the bereaved ones. The song service was beautifully rendered by a quartette of Beloit students. The pall bearers were old friends and neighbors, E. Rogers, J. Walworth, S. Walworth, Alfred Hubbel, O. E. Langworthy and Henry Whitaker. Besides the way from the immediate vicinity friends from Stoughton, Janesville, Milton Junction and Oregon were present. The remains were laid to rest in Forest cemetery in a spot made beautiful by evergreens and flowers. The simple services at the grave were a brief, earnest prayer and the singing of "Jesus, Lover of my Soul."

Jeremiah Kenna.

Jeremiah Kenna, of Footville, died this morning of heart disease at his home, aged seventy-two years. Mr. Kenna was highly respected and well known in this county, having resided here for forty-five years. He leaves three sons and three daughters to mourn his loss—John Kenna, Mrs. Mary Hogan, of Eau Claire; Frank Kenna, of Footville; Mrs. Hanna Manger, of Eau Claire; James Kenna, of Footville; and Miss Julia Kenna, of this city. The funeral will be held from St. Augustine's church at Footville, Saturday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, the interment to be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

David H. Bonesteel.

Rev. Walter A. Hall, pastor of Court Street M. E. church, conducted the funeral of the late David H. Bonesteel which was held from the residence of the son of the deceased, Wm. H. Bonesteel, 102 South Academy street. The funeral was private, the relatives and a few intimate friends being present. The remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pall bearers being William Gunn, J. A. Rice, N. H. Clark and J. A. Hagau.

Miss Grace Turner.

Miss Grace Josephine Turner died at her home in Lutherville, Maryland, this morning of consumption. Miss Turner had spent considerable time in Janesville as the guest of Mrs. Stanley B. Smith and the news of her death came to Mrs. Smith shortly after noon. Many warm friends in Janesville will mourn her death, she being an especial favorite among the young people of the city.

Martin Whalen.

Martin Whalen, whose serious illness was noted in yesterday's Gazette, died at about eleven o'clock last evening at his home on Hickory street. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made. Mr.

Whalen was widely known and highly respected throughout this section of the state.

FROM BOYS IN THE FIELD

BROWN MAY SOON GET BAIL

The Alleged Forger Will Probably Be Released on Bonds

Dr. Robert Brown may be walking the streets of Janesville before the passing of many more days. An effort is now being made to secure the necessary $1,000 bail, and his friends say that they have no fear but what they will secure it.

In the municipal court at 10 o'clock this morning the prisoner appeared, and his case was adjourned till Saturday at 9 o'clock. Fathers, Jeffris, Fildes and Mount have been retained to defend the prisoner.

ARE ON THE WAY TO CUBA.

Gen. Shafter Sets Sail with 27,000 Troops.

CONVOYED BY BATTLESHIPS.

The Army Will Reach Its Destination Friday or Saturday—No Soldiers from Illinois Included in the Expedition—Little Opposition Looked For.

London, June 9.—The Washington correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, with the approval of Gen. Greely, cables the following:

"The army sailed from Tampa at noon Wednesday. The force numbers 27,000 men, composed of infantry, cavalry, artillery, engineers and signal corps.

"The infantry consists of twenty-seven regiments, sixteen regulars and eleven volunteers, as follows: Of the regular regiments the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth. Of the volunteer regiments there were the Seventy-first New York, Thirty-second Michigan, First and Fifth Ohio, Second New York, First District of Columbia, Fifth Maryland, One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Indiana and the Third Pennsylvania. The total infantry force is 21,600 men. In addition there are a battalion of engineers, a detachment of the signal corps, five squadrons of cavalry, four batteries of light artillery and two batteries of heavy artillery.

"Gen. Shafter is in chief command of the force, which is conveyed by the battleship Indiana and the gunboat Helena, with the training ship Bancroft as Gen. Shafter's floating home.

"The transports are due at Santiago Friday night or Saturday morning, and a landing will be attempted on Saturday. This should be effected without difficulty, and no doubt by Sunday, at the latest, the stars and stripes will float over Santiago de Cuba."

SILENT REGARDING TROOPS.

Officials Not Allowed to Tell Whether the Army Has Left Tampa.

Washington, June 9.—The activity and frequent exchange of communications between the war and navy departments, culminating in visits by Acting Secretary Allen, Admiral Seward and Capt. Crowninshield in person to the war department Wednesday, led to the belief that either the United States troops were actually embarking at Tampa or that the movement is about to begin. The officials, however, while not absolutely ignorant themselves as to what was going on at Tampa, were all under an injunction delivered by Secretary Alger himself to keep the troop movements absolutely secret. There were intimations that took away in a measure the disappointment occasioned by this attitude, to the effect that once the troops are ashore there will be a considerable relaxation of the rules now so rigidly applied relative to the giving out of information as to the army's movements.

Three Hundred Spaniards Killed.

London, June 9.—The Singapore correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Tuesday, says:

"The local Philippine insurgent committee has received a dispatch from Aguinaldo, saying: 'We have taken all in the province of Cavite and several towns in the province of Batangas. We have captured 10 guns, 600 rifles, and 1,200 Spaniards from Spain, with 800 Philippine Spaniards, killing 300. We are besieging Iloilo. In the church there 300 Spaniards are entrenched, who must surrender soon. We hear that the governor general proposes to capitulate.'"

Few Soldiers in Santiago.

Key West, Fla., June 9.—It is a liberal estimate that the number of Spanish soldiers in Santiago equipped and ready for service is 4,500. In this number are included volunteers and the sailors from Cervera's beleaguered fleet, who might aid in resisting a land attack by Americans and Cubans. Officers acquainted with the topography of the country and the opportunities for resistance assert that the city can be taken by storm without heavy loss to the attacking army.

Big Loss of Life.

Key West, Fla., June 9.—There is scarcely any doubt that much greater damage than was at first supposed was inflicted upon the Spanish in Santiago harbor during the bombardment Monday morning. Many shells are believed to have fallen in the city itself, and when all the facts are known after the port has fallen into Admiral Sampson's hands it will probably be found that the loss of life was very great.

To Abandon Tampa.

Washington, June 9.—Tampa is to be abandoned entirely as a place of concentration. This has been decided on by the war department at the urgent solicitation of army surgeons. It was not intended at first to keep troops there during summer. A medical board has been detailed to visit a number of southern points, with a view to selecting one of them as a site for a summer camp.

Camara's Fleet Still at Cadiz.

Gibraltar, June 9.—Admiral Camara's fleet is still at Cadiz maneuvering. Reports vary. Some say that the fleet will sail in a week, others that it will not start until the end of the month. All agree that its destination is Cuba.

Army Men Growing Anxious.

New York, June 9.—All the dispatches from West Indian points giving accounts of the operations at Santiago have been read with interest at the navy and war departments, says the Washington correspondent of the Times. Army officers who hope to have the opportunity to win some credit for the army at Santiago are somewhat disquieted by the reports of activity by the fleet before the arrival of the land forces to co-operate with it. With three or four days of such pounding as is reported to have taken place, the batteries and garrison of Santiago will be powerless to resist an attempt to occupy their defenses.

To Seize the Hawaiian Islands.

Washington, June 9.—The monitor Monadnock is not intended for the Philippines. She is under orders to prepare for sea and proceed to Honolulu, where she will raise the stars and stripes if congress fails to annex the islands before adjourning. President McKinley has decided that we must have the Hawaiian Islands if we hope to retain the Philippines; and, if the bickerings of the senate and the house will not permit of their acceptance in the usual way, he will take them himself.
